*DECADE OF
CELEBRATION*

Wesleyan is in celebration, counting down the next ten years until our educational institution will have been in service for a century. There are but few institutions helping to maintain a value system in our culture today . . . values with which thoughtful persons relate. We are striving to maintain a value structure in our contemporary culture . . . one that is attempting to bring order to a disordered world. Wesleyan is a small, traditional, church-related college offering high quality, value-centered higher education in the liberal arts and the sciences. The Board of Trustees of WVWC declared 1980-1990 a DECADE OF CELEBRATION under the unity theme: "Wesleyan: Steward for a New Age." With a dual emphasis in Christian values and intellectual excellence. The president has appointed Sister Jean Fitzgerald as the main coordinator of this project which will develop specific programs each year. Possible topics to be explored during the upcoming decade are World Hunger, Energy, Religion, Education, and the Arts. Wesleyan needs our support in these programs planned to enhance our college education and to maintain our traditional ideals for decades to come.

the descent into hell

The text, by Daniel Pinkham, is based on a Greek narrative describing the Harrowing of Hell as found in The Apocryphal New Testament, translated by N. R. James, Oxford University Press, 1924. (Harrow is an old English word meaning to rob.) This is an event in the afterlife of Christ which has no basis in the Gospels. Interwoven into the story is the legend that the wood from Eden's apple tree later became the wood of the cross.

Ninety One . . .

World hunger . . . even with today's technological society the problem still exists.

. . . "In spite of the tremendous economic progress of the last twenty years (in the world at large), the promise of effective development is dimmed by the fact that very little progress has been made by the poorest peoples and nations . . . It has been estimated that over 700 million people exist in conditions of absolute poverty . . . There are additional millions who live just above marginal subsistence."

— Maurice J. Williams

. . . "In my view, the most fundamental argument for (overcoming poverty) . . . is that human beings wherever born, should be able to develop to the fullest extent their capacities, both in order to fulfill themselves and in order to contribute to the common heritage of civilizations."

— Paul Streeten

. . . "Compounding the force of a rising standard of living is the fact that most low income families . . . have little opportunity to gain their self-respect and the respect granted them by others occupational, educational, or other accomplishments. And this poverty of opportunity may only reinforce the significance of consumption in the pattern which we have called 'compensatory consumption.'"

— David Caplovitz

. . . "The Challenge of World Poverty . . . a world anti-poverty program in outline . . ."

— Gunnar Myrdal

Ninety Two . . .

Energy . . . what are the resources of tomorrow?

In today's world there are so many forms of energy: Chemical, Electrical, Potential, Kinetic, and Solar. Will they be here for us to use when we go out into the world after we graduate?

. . . energy may neither be created nor destroyed, it only changes from one form to another: Conservation of Energy.

Since the Industrial Revolution man has come to depend more and more on energy. The U.S. and other nations have developed an industrial economy and way of life that is almost entirely dependent upon sources of energy. With the demand increasing we are concerned for the future of supplies, development of other resources has been given a great deal of attention throughout the world from nuclear power to new oil and gas fields. Coal has become a major source being researched in the U.S. for replacing possible depleted sources in the future. There are many controversies as to the level of dangers nuclear power may produce. However, every source of energy the country can develop will be needed in the years to come if America is to continue to succeed as an efficient economy.

. . . What are fuel cells? How can they be applied? What are their uses and efficiency? What is fuel wood? Can we bring back this source of energy the pioneers once used? Natural mineral fuels? Natural Gas? Peat? Coal? Does it have more to develop? Synthetic liquid fuels? Manufactured gases? Coke-oven gas? Water gas — produce gas? Blast furnace gas? Petroleum gas? High energy chemical fuels?

. . . what does the future hold?

Ninety Three . . .

*Methodist affiliated . . .
Religion is an important emphasis*

. . . "To my mother and father whose deep commitment to the Christian faith and unswerving devotion to its timeless principles have given me an inspiring example of the Strength of Love."

Are the reasons for the decline of today's Christian morals and values a reflection of the home? An institution of a church can only provide knowledge but the parents and homelife need to take this learned knowledge and put it into practice. Granted outer influences of society's environment reflect in the development of all of us as individuals. But if the values established at a young age are instilled, they will not stand up to these evil forces. Man is evil — sensuality, selfishness and cruelty rise aggressively in his soul — something within tells him that they are intruders and reminds him of his higher destiny, and more noble alliance. Man's longing for the divine: as he seeks to adjust to the demands of time, he knows that eternity is his ultimate habitat. When man comes to himself, he knows that evil is a foreign invader that must be driven from the native soils of his soul before he can achieve moral and spiritual dignity. The proplems always for man have been his inability to conquer evil by his own power. Why can't I cast it Out? Why can I not remove this evil from my life? The real weakness of the idea that God will do everything is its false conception of both God and man. It makes God so absolutely sovereign that man is absolutely helpless, depraved to wait on God. It also sees the world so contaminated by sin that God only touches here and there through a mighty invasion. God is not a despot, but a Father, he will not thrust himself upon us nor force us to stay home when our minds are bent on journeying to some degrading far country. But He follows us in love and when we come to ourselves and turn our tired feed back to the Father's house, He stands waiting with outstretched arms of forgiveness.

. . . We must learn that to expect God to do everything while we do nothing is not faith, but superstition . . .

God nor man will individually bring the world's salvation. Rather, both man and God, made one in a marvelous unity of purpose, through an overflowing love as the free gift of himself on the part of God and by perfect obedience and receptivity on the part of man, can transform the old into the new and our personal lives. — know that it is the struggle with sin — slavery to drink, untruthfulness, impurity, selfishness, take possession of your own life. Evil can be cast out, not by man alone nor by a dictatorial God who invades our lives, but when we open the door and invite God through Christ to enter. . . . "Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man may hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me." God is too courteous to break open the door, but when we open it in faith believing a divine and human confrontation will transform our sin-ruined lives into radiant personalities.

*— excerpts from Strength of Love,
by Martin Luther King, Jr.*

What is Christian Education? Growth in religion? Basic needs and theology concepts? Christian Education in the home? Religious Education and the schools, community, fellowship and instruction in the church.

Living Religions of the world . . . in search of meaning;

*Hinduism . . . . . the vision inward
Jainuism . . . . . the three jewels

Ninety Four . . .

*What is the quality of Education . . .
will it be better tomorrow?*

. . . The role of the future in Education (Alvin Toffler) learning for tomorrow is a dramatic call for "education in the future tense." The most important question we need to ask ourselves to help reform its need of change is not where, when, or how, but why???

"All education springs from images of the future and all education creates images of the future. Thus, all education intended or not is in preparation of the future. Unless we understand the future for which we are preparing, we may do tragic damage to those we teach. Unless we understand the powerful psychological role played by images of the future in motivation or de-motivation the learner, we cannot effectively overhaul our schools, colleges, or universities, no matter what innovations we introduce.

. . . Should changes be made? Public Schools vs. Private Schools — costly colleges, universities — quality of them.

*. . . Toward what ends do we educate? Liberal arts vs.
scientific and practical education?*

Postulates of teaching: Are they being practiced???

Individualism: teaching and learning coming together as a whole of each personality involved.

Totality: teaching must address total personality of the student: both intellectual and emotional aspects

Motivation: the total personality of the student effectiveness of learning depends on inclination to learn

Many-sidedness: every factor, even contradictory points, need to be considered

Mental order: division of schools elementary, secondary, and higher education — society needs organization

Correlation of subject matter: a natural casting fulfillment

Self activity: demand of learning by doing or experimenting

Ethical direction: toward knowledge, citizenship and character education

Ninety Five . . .

The Arts . . . are we losing this branch of learning?

. . . "If we want our world to be still, gray and silent, then we should keep the arts out of the school, shut down the neighborhood theatre and barricade the museum doors. When we let the arts into the arena of learning, we run the risk that color, motion, and music will enter our lives."

— David Rockefeller, Jr.

. . . "The majority of the people involved in the arts has not been significantly a part of their education. If the role of the arts is to be changed, educational decision makers must have a rationale that explains not only the value of the arts for their own sake, but equally important, how these subjects can meet broad educational goals."

— Kathryn Bloom

. . . "To me, the board of education, the school principals, and the local colleges are all sold on the value of the arts in education from kindergarten on . . . It's not a lot of extra money, it's the way you do the curriculum, what you believe. I don't think we should let money — stand in the way."

— Francis Coe

. . . "Chautauqua is an idea, embracing the of 'all things' of life — art, science, society, religion, patriotism, education — whatsoever tends to enlarge, refine and ennoble the individual, to develop domestic charm and influence, to make the nation stronger and wiser, and to make time and eternity seem to be what they are — parts of one noble and everlasting whole."

— Frank Chapin Bray

TRADITIONS

Freshman Orientation

It is the last week of August and Wesleyan's campus is once again inhabited. Gone are the quiet, sun bathing afternoons when a summer student can concentrate on his organic chemistry book under a bright sun. It is time to start anew once more. First, the faculty and staff start reappearing. Then the early upperclassmen: the resident assistants, tour choir members, and the orientation leaders. After their various workshops and camps, after they have organized and planned all they can, they wake up one morning knowing that today is the day ... today they meet THEM. "Them" translates into the members of the freshman class, the several hundred new faces that we may only see till Christmas or that we may know the rest of our lives.

During the last weekend of August Freshman Orientation begins. It continues through the next couple of days until classes start. Freshman Orientation is composed of group meetings, registration, academic advising, dessert in faculty homes, generally learning about Wesleyan, and, of course, moving in.

Did you ever think you would actually be here? Did you pray that next fall you would be in the capping ceremony? How many times did Biology or Chemistry or both pose a threat to your plans? Well, you made it . . . you made it through the freshman year pre-nursing program. Now you are a sophomore, now you are a student nurse, now you are capped. And as you turn around to give that thank-you smile to your nursing big sister or that special friend who so professionally pinned that cap on your head, as she has pinned it on her own a thousand times, you start wondering if you will make it to the upperclassman level . . . do you think you will ever make it to the senior pinning ceremony? . . .

Still Crazy After All These Years

Homecoming and Founder's Day 1980: The 90th Anniversary

"Once again the Alumni Office is taking orders for Mums for Homecoming. The cost for each is $2.50 . . ." A tradition within a tradition. There are many smaller traditions within the annual campus wide Homecoming celebration. This year was slightly different as this year the Wesleyan community started a celebration that will last for the next ten years . . . a decade of celebration. The 90th anniversary of West Virginia Wesleyan College was a four-day event packed with a little something for everyone. Perspectives for the 80's were discussed from several angles . . . Gov. Jay Rockefeller IV on energy . . . Bishop William Groves on religion . . . President Fred Harris and President Emeritus Stanley Martin on education . . . and the 1965 alumnus Dr. Marvin Richards on the existence of a "true moral view."

The arts were also experienced as the WWC Jazz Ensemble warmed up the crowd Thursday night before Daniel Pinkham presented us with a "Descent Into Hell" and as the Wesleyan Art Gallery introduced us to "Three Alumni — New Masters." This special exhibition allowed us to view the works of Susan Marquess-Danges, Kathy Danko-McGhee, and Art Hansen.

With Founder's Day behind us the weekend started. As England has a royal family, Wesleyan has royalty of its own. Under the theme of "Still Crazy After All These Years" we chose our 1980 Homecoming Queen. With the verbal direction of Master of Ceremony Bruce Gladstone the traditional procession started. First the bringing of the roses by Charliena Helmick and the bearing of the crown by Tony Wentz. Then the Freshman Honor Court, dressed in black and lining the aisle, one by one, making the rose topped path for the Homecoming Court to pass under. Finally, the presentation of the Homecoming Court . . . Joe Kenaston and Alex Withers took turns escorting an attendant from each and the five senior women vying for the chance to wear the crown and robe. Tension was mounting as Wesleyan's Only Barbershop Quartet II serenaded the court and reached a peak as we watched, for the last time, our 1979 Homecoming Queen, Leslie Cochenour Rodia. At last the moment arrived, Dr. Harris announced senior Cindy Antolini as the 1980 Homecoming Queen. After being properly coronated and sung to by Wesleyan's own Concert Chorale, Queen Antolini proclaimed Homecoming officially begun.

Friday night concluded with the comedy of Willie Tyler and Lester and the sounds of The Spinners, an entertaining concert that kept the crowd laughing and moving to the beat for the better part of the evening. A victory for Bob Skinner and the Campus Community Program Board Concert Committee.

Saturday morning came early and ended with a soaked parade and a muddy football game, in which the Wesleyan Bobcats bowed to Shepherd. Amidst decorated dorms and floats that were put together in the dark of the preceding night, alumni gathered and recalled their memories.

Psychology

Things were not looking good for Spring Sing '81 when the theme was first announced . . . the original theme was to have been "Songs that no one listens to." This puzzled the campus community, especially the eleven individuals planning to direct groups. The directors soon found that music to songs no one listens to was as plentiful as steam clams are in Arizona . . . with this thought in mind the Special Activities Committee of Community Council made a daring move . . . they changed the theme. Thus the campus community geared up for "Guys and Dolls."

During the week preceding the sing itself the Greek members of the campus community met face to face, every day, trying to do things faster or longer or better than their opponents . . . from water polo to volleyball . . . from tricycle races to bed races . . . egg tosses to billiards . . . all week long competition was in the air.

Saturday was the height of competition . . . the games, the sing, and the coronation of a queen. This spring the crown was placed on senior Gail Reeves. Gail received her robe and crown from the past spring queen, Cindy Stormer, and, as all Spring queens are, Queen Reeves was serenaded. First, by the talented West Virginia Wesleyan Concert Chorale under the direction of Dr. Larry Parsons, and then by eleven, if not talented at least fun loving, groups composed of many fellow students. Perhaps Gail's most cherished serenade came at intermission when the sisters of Alpha Xi Delta approached her and quietly sang to the new queen, a song not meant for competition, a song meant only to express their shared happiness. Presented to the queen unrehearsed and spontaneously . . . one of the best performances of the evening.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate is the first of the graduation ceremonies. Held just a few days before commencement, Baccalaureate is the official blessing of the graduating class ... and several members of the class are rewarded for their past contributions. This year four senior men were honored.

Dr. Marvin Carr III presented the Frances Asbury Award to two graduating seniors. Ken Krimmel and Darrell Gooden received the Asbury award for their outstanding work as Student Ministers. Ken's wife, Chris, was also a member of the graduating class. Both men are pictured on the previous page with their wives, on the left are Ken and Chris Krimmel and to the right Cindy and Darrell Gooden.

The Sheridan Watson Bell Award for religious life influence was presented by Lorraine Slaughter to Don Poole. A member of the Christian Life Council and LoveShine while majoring in Biology, Don has made plans to attend seminary in the Boston area. Don is shown to the immediate left with Mrs. Slaughter.

The third award was presented by Charles Presar to Bruce Gladstone. Bruce was presented with the Hatfield Fine Arts Award. While at Wesleyan he was extremely active in both the music and drama departments. Pictured to the bottom left is Bruce and Mr. Presar.

A fourth award was also acknowledged. Although the award was originally announced at the Awards Assembly, Dr. Loftis made the actual presentation from the Presser Foundation to junior Sarah Carr. This award is presented annually to the outstanding junior in the music department, who is then known throughout their senior year as the Presser Scholar. Our new Presser Scholar is shown with Dr. Loftis on the preceding page.

C.C.P.B. Is More Than a Building . . .

C.C.P.B. is made up of a board of students and faculty which plan a calendar of events to satisfy everyone on our campus' needs for entertainment. The activities included were concerts, dances, coffee houses, weekly movies, road trips to sports and other recreational activities and cultural experiences. J-term, the usual relaxed good time atmosphere, was filled with mini-concerts, roller-skating and swim parties, casino night and the big hit . . . family feud!!! There are many committees involved with this organization whose members are very dedicated in seeing that your recreational needs are met. Together director Bob Skinner and his right hand lady Chris Moore lead the board with a great deal of positive direction. Without their energy, support, hard work, and enthusiasm this year's schedule would not have been as great a success.

The Wesleyan Pharos

It was another banner year for athletics at West Virginia Wesleyan College.

The Bobcats finished a stellar third in the 13-team conference in the race for the Commissioner's Cup the award for athletic supremacy among the state's colleges in 1980-81. Despite not garnering a team title in 1980-81, Wesleyan's athletic teams placed highly in nearly every sport and had several operatives receive post-season laurels.

In all, the Bobcats had eight performers ink professional contracts, two All-Americans, and a host of All-West Virginia Conference standouts. John Bates, Jim Brogan, Larry Coffey, Mickey Tenney, Rich Thomaselli, George Claffey, Bemba Balsirow and Bob Middleton all joined the professional ranks, marking a new stand for Wesleyan athletics.

The most celebrated of the signings was that of football standout Coffey, who was signed as a free agent by four-time Super Bowl Champion Pittsburgh. A three-time All-Conference and All-American selection, Coffey shattered nearly every rushing record at Wesleyan in establishing himself as the best running back in Bobcat history and one of the best in conference annals.

A smile comes to the face of Bobcat grid coach Kent Carpenter when he talks of Coffey's claim to fame after a stellar career on the Wesleyan grid iron. Just four years before, Carpenter had pulled off one of the biggest "steals" in college athletics when he signed the multi-talented back to a letter-of-intent. And while the Delray Beach, Fla., native wasn't an instant star on the grid iron for the 'Cats, he worked at his trade and by the time he was a sophomore he could compete with the best.

"I remember when Larry first came here," Carpenter said with a chuckle. "He was a stringbean-type kid — something like 170 pounds — with a lot of raw talent.

"At the time, he just didn't have the weight to make it with a big school. And I think that if he had gone to a large school he wouldn't have developed the way he did here. Here he was brought along slowly which I think helped him a lot. "He weighed something like 170 pounds when he came in here, but he saw that he needed to put some weight on and he really worked at it. He worked hard on an off-season training program that really helped him.

"He just kept working and working and I don't think they (the Steelers) would have signed him if he hadn't worked so hard to gain more strength and weight."

Coffey weighed offers from the Dallas Cowboys, Philadelphia Eagles, Atlanta Falcons and Baltimore Colts before finally signing with the Steelers.

For his standout performances on the football field and as a sprinter on the Bobcat track team, the 5-10, 200-pound Coffey was named the school's "Athlete of the Year."

Coffey finished his career with a 146-yard day against Salem to give him a career total of 715 carries for 3,035 yards. That yardage total ranks him fourth in league history behind former Salem College standout Jack Deloplaine, who went on to play for the Steelers in the Super Bowl.

In 1978, he rushed for 1,159 yards which is the sixth highest total for one season by a conference back and is the most yards ever achieved by a sophomore. And his 3,278 total yards ranks sixth on the all-time West Virginia Conference list.

Coffey will be joined in the National Football League ranks by ex-Bobcat Thomaselli, a 1980 graduate who last year played for the American Football Association champion West Virginia Rockets. Thomaselli was signed by Pittsburgh's AFC Central Division rival the Houston Oilers.

And a third Wesleyan grid standout, placekicker Claffey, is one step away from the NFL with San Antonio of the American Association. Claffey provided one of the more memorable moments during the 1980 season when he booted a record 53-yard field goal as time expired to propel the Bobcats to a 10-9 victory over defending Northern Division champion West Liberty.

Tenney signed with the Chicago Cubs after being taken in the latter phase of the college draft. He finished a successful rookie season with the Cubs Class AAA team by hitting .244 and starting the teams final 42 games at shortstop. In all, he played in 67 games and committed only six errors.

This summer he was moved up to Davenport where he was hitting .263 before a knee injury halted his season after 67 games. He was used in a reserve role at second, third and short.

Balsirow and Middleton had been standouts with the Bobcats in 1979 when they shared time in the goal to help the team to a second place finish in the NAIA District 28. Both inked minor league contracts in the midwest this year.

Several other Bobcat athletic squads made it into the national limelight.

The Bobcat soccer team, under the direction of Tom Martin, ran up an impressive 11-5 record against a tough schedule that included many major college foes. At one point in the season, the 'Cats ranked as high as third in the nation and first in the eastern United States.

They recorded eight straight victories to start the season and lost to perennial powerhouse Alderson-Broadus in the semi-finals of the regional tournament.

Standout forward Martin Woodstock, a 5-9, 140-pound junior forward from Kingston, Jamaica, joined Coffey as the school's only All-Americans in 1980-81 when the NAIA tabbed him for laurels.

Wesleyan's field hockey team finished fourth in the AIAW regionals at Denison University. They came within one victory of representing the school at the AIAW nationals at Hollins (Va.) College.

Kathy Higgins scored five goals in the two-day regional tournament to run her season total to a record 25 goals in 13 games. She ranks first on the Lady Bobcats all-time career scoring list.

The Bobcat and Lady Bobcat basketball teams both got off to slow starts with the male cagers receiving more recognition for their off-the-court antics than game performances. The Bobcat men received national recognition in January from several newspapers, including the Kansas City Star, when they rescued a sportswriter who had been in an accident following a game.

As the spring sports season rolled around, hopes were high that the Bobcat men's track, women's track, and men's tennis squads could repeat their title performances of the year before. While none of these teams did repeat their championship form each provided an entertaining brand of athletic competition.

The 'Cat track team finished runner-up to West Virginia State in the West Virginia Conference meet and qualified Willie Waugh, an All-American in 1980, for the NAIA National Meet in Houston, Texas. Waugh finished 10th in the national extravaganza in 1981.

The Lady Bobcat thinclads added more records to their standard breaking season of 1980 by finishing second in the WVIAA. Marshall University claimed the team title.

And the Bobcat netters, after dropping their opening match to the University of Charleston, ran off 11 straight victories before finally meeting their match in the conference tournament. The Bobcats finished a disappointing third.

Wesleyan's baseball Bobcats cracked the .500 mark and battled for a district playoff spot until the final day of the season. The 'Cats beefed up their schedule in 1981 by playing farm teams of the Pittsburgh Pirates, St. Louis Cardinals and World Champion Philadelphia Phillies on their annual Florida tour during spring break.

Meanwhile, basketball standouts Bates and Brogan were making names for themselves by signing with National Basketball Association teams. Bates was picked in the 10th round of the collegiate draft by the Indiana Pacers, while Brogan was picked as a free agent by the Golden State Warriors off the summer league courts of Philadelphia.

Bates broke his hand and missed the Pacers rookie camp ending any chances he might have had of making it with the big club, while Brogan was a final cut of the Warriors. Brogan then signed with Atlantic City of the Continental Basketball League, which is considered the top league for supplying players to the NBA.

West Virginia Wesleyan College

A Dedication to John Skolka

"Just two years ago now, John Skolka was making his debut as a third-string quarterback on the West Virginia Wesleyan College football team. He was a hard-working, strong-armed, self-confident athlete who got along with just about anyone.

This summer, while swimming at a community pool in Plainfield, N.J., John Skolka suffered an injury that has left him paralyzed from the waist down, and he has no movement in his fingers.

Skolka, a business major and economics minor, would have been a junior at Wesleyan this year. And while he gave up football after his freshman year, he was active in the Theta Chi fraternity, where he had been elected pledgemaster for the fall semester." (The Record Delta, Fall 1980)

After the Wesleyan community learned of John's accident the Greeks decided that there should be something that could be done to help the Skolka family, and John in particular. It was the brothers of Theta Chi with Inter-Fraternity Council that acted first by organizing a basketball marathon to raise money, in hopes of defraying some of the massive medical costs involved with John's care.

Shortly after second semester started Panhellenic Council decided to sponsor an all Greek party to benefit John. Held as a St. Patrick's Day Party the council urged the Greek community to "Get Greek and Green."

In a year when Greek unity was stressed it was good to see the Greek community working together for a common goal . . . even if it was an unfortunate one. And even though John Skolka may not return to the field he will return to Wesleyan and the community of people, who showed in his absence, that he was missed.

AGO

One of several musical groups from West Virginia Wesleyan College, the Concert Chorale is a sixty-member organization which tours the United States twice a year. Auditions are held in the spring for the Chorale. Chorale members represent many states, including West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, and New Jersey. Music majors comprise about one-sixth of the group; the other members come from such diverse fields as English, religion, nursing, education, business administration, biology, theatre, psychology, and social welfare.

The Chorale strives to present a broad spectrum of choral music to the listening public. As well as being a performing group, the choir provides an educational experience, not only for the audience, but also for the students. The Concert Chorale is representative of the high level of achievement and academic integrity for which West Virginia Wesleyan College is noted.

The choir has been acclaimed throughout the eastern United States and has made five European tours, including a concert at the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Methodist Church in Australia. It has also performed at the American Choral Directors Association Conference in Charlotte, North Carolina, provided music for the National Protestant Hour, and has appeared with the Charleston Symphony in the performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

Future tours are being planned for California, South America, and England. This spring, the Chorale's itinerary included Ohio, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa, and Pennsylvania. In addition to its off-campus responsibilities, the choir performs for "home traditions," such as the Founders Day Convocation, Festival of Lessons and Carols, the coronation of Homecoming and Spring queens, Baccalaureate, Commencement, and its own home concerts.

The West Virginia Wesleyan Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Prof. David A. Milburn has developed an enviable reputation in the area of popular jazz and jazz-rock music in the past few years as they have performed before tens of thousands in public and school assemblies, as well as jazz festival concerts.

The West Virginia Wesleyan College Jazz Ensemble is a 20-piece band which performs a broad and diversified repertoire of current jazz and jazz-rock music from such big bands as Woody Herman, Count Basie, Maynard Ferguson, Stan Kenton, Buddie Rich, Don Ellis, Phil Woods and many more. Six trumpets, five trombones, five saxes and one french horn fill out the wind section, while piano, bass and drums form the rhythm section. The ensemble tours throughout the eastern United States, performing at school assemblies, public and jazz festival concerts. The 1980 spring tour was highlighted by a performance in Walt Disney World in Orlando, Florida. This year's tour throughout the northeast was concluded with a performance at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts. The group has made three European tours since its formation in 1970, the most recent being a tour in 1979, to Romania to represent the United States in Jazz Celebration II sponsored by the Friendship Ambassadors program.

All twenty members of the band are undergraduate students at West Virginia Wesleyan. Approximately one-half of the members are music majors, and the rest come from a variety of educational endeavors, including chemistry, biology, business and education.

David A. Milburn, a native of Jeanette, Pennsylvania, is Associate Professor of Music and Director of Bands at Wesleyan. Professor Milburn has completed the course work and is a candidate for the Doctor of Music Arts degree in Music Education at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C.

Internships...

Tom Lawson is a junior sociology major who spent the fall semester in a unique internship as a correctional officer at Huttonsville Correctional Center. One of Tom's greatest experiences was a week long "man-hunt" through W. Va. woods looking for two escaped men which ended at Snoweshoe Mountain.

Tony Davis is a senior who interned about 6 months (June-Dec.) at a ranch in Colorado for delinquent teenage boys. The boys went to school during the day, then spent their afternoons doing chores about the ranch. Tony helped in this as well as taking a few at a time on weekend excursions camping, fishing, or just hiking about near the place. Tony learned a great deal about these boys and was not only working, he became their friend . . . that was important.

A camping trip at Temple Canyon — a weekend excursion.

The ranch house.

Internship at Christian Conference Center

After the downfall of Merrill-Palmer Institute, Dr. John Warner was forced to relocate the students — Columbus, Ohio was the destination of the spring interns where they were given a variety of placement choices. Donna Miller, Tammy Baker, Nancy Plercy and Lisa Schmidt chose to work at Tico, a maximum security prison for boys 13-21. Wendy Harris and Carol McLaughlin worked at Huckelberry House, a home for runaways. Meg Rudloff worked at Integrity House, with drug and alcohol abusers. Jane Summers did the same at St. Anthony's Hopsital. Kathi Brown worked at Rosemont Receiving Center for female offenders 12-17. Tony Davis, a senior, worked at St. Stephen's Community House. Along with these practical experiences the students took youth service related courses. Along with their experiences they enjoyed the college town, finding plenty of entertainment to keep them happy . . .

Lisa Schmidt

Tammy Baker: "Although our class assignments, individual projects, field placements and household work kept us busy . . . we always had fun"

Donna Miller: "My learning experiences have been great . . . I sat on juvenile court hearings — realized how desperate these kids are . . ."

Wendy Harris: "I've learned so much about giving, dealing with people and their problems —"

Carol McLaughlin: "There is so much sharing and support from everyone — great experience."

Meg Rudloff: "I never dreamed it could possibly turn out to be such a fulfilling semester . . ."

Jane Summers: "This semester made me appreciate being able to put what I've learned into a practical experience."

Tony Davis: "It is truly a rewarding experience to work with children who supposedly have so little but can give so much."

Kathi Brown: "This semester has really opened my eyes . . ."

Nancy Piercy: "Believe it or not, I even look forward to seeing those murderers and thieves now . . ."

FACULTY

Goodbye Fred! We Will Miss You!

“There is a ‘mystique’ about Wesleyan that characterizes few educational institutions. Perhaps it is that mystique that brings a thousand alumni back to the college for Homecoming each year; or consider the fact that over one hundred persons who graduated fifty or more years ago return each year at Commencement time. Wesleyan has meaning! It lives!

As Mrs. Harris and I enter retirement we ask not that you remember us but that you remember the values, the fellowship and the educational purposes for which Wesleyan stands. In this increasingly pragmatic society, meaning, value and purpose will continue to be elusive. In such areas Wesleyan can help you even as you help Wesleyan and hold it dear.”

Fred E. Harris

PAM ACKLEY — What lies behind us and what lies before us are tiny matters compared to what lies within us. Emerson

CATHY ALLNUTT — "Deep into that darkness peering, long I stood there wondering, fearing, doubting, dreaming dreams no mortal ever dared to dream before." Edgar Allan Poe

WILMA SUE ANGLE-CROW — It is the expression of humanity; the tangible insight into the soul and a necessary outlet of creative thought . . . you gotta have art.

GRETCHEN E. BAILEY — "There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus. Hallelujah! Romans 8:1

INGRID D. BALLHAUSSEN — The moment we are satisfied with what we are, we risk losing sight of how much more we might become.

F. DAVID BELLOTTI — If what you did yesterday still looks big today, then you haven't done much today.

DONALD BENDURE — The crux of the biscuit is the apostrophe'

DIANA L. BROOKOVER — "If you can imagine it, you can achieve it. If you can dream it, you can become it."

ROBIN BUNCH — "The pursuit of excellence knows no schedule. Get the most out of life that you possible can."

SARAH CALLAWAY — WACKA! WACKA! It's one of those things.

REBECCA LOUISE BURGESS — Fear is always a fear of some future thing. As soon as a person confronts or challenges what he is afraid of, the fear vanishes. Virginia Satir

ANDREA CAQUETTE —

Time flies
Sun rises
Shadows fall
God's love is forever over all

OLGA CHANDRA — Let us sing the song of remembrance to spring's carefree sowing, and summer's watchful tending, and Autumn's Reward in harvest.

FRANK CIOCCI — There are some who do and some who don't and some you just can't tell; there are some who will and some who won't and some it's just as well.

VALERIE A. CONN — Happiness: It can only be truly found within.

BARRY CONNER — It's not me that's wrong; it's everyone else!

SUSAN COWPER — Do not follow where the path may lead. Go instead where there is no path and leave a trail.

JAMIE CRAFT — The world is such that what may appear to be an end, is only a new beginning.

NICHOLAS J. DIBLASIO — There's no more exhilarating feeling than being afforded the opportunity of higher education.

EDYTH DONALDSON —

Weeds
Nobody likes weeds.
Nobody carries them in a bouquet or wears them in a corsage, but God waters the weeds.

DIANA DONNELLY — "Through Discipline Comes Freedom, So look up and aim high! Run straight toward your goal with purpose in every step."

LYNNE ANN DUFF — Believe in yourself and in your plan. Say not — I cannot — but I can. The prizes of life we fail to win because we doubt the power within.

CLAIRE GAYLEY — My dreams today are that there will be so much more ahead in life that I can never reach is all.

KRISTI S. GEORGE — "Greater love hath no man than this — that a man lay down his life for his friends." John 15:13

BETH GIKAKUS — We appreciate the good things of today when we realize that they are part of dreams started yesterday. Recognizing this helps us get a better hold on our dreams and directions. George Benson

EVELYN GILSKY — Every day holds some lovely secret waiting to be found.

BRUCE GLADSTONE — When you reach the heart of life, you shall find beauty in all things, even in the eyes that are blind to beauty. Gibran

BARBARA DUNTON — "GO TO CHURCH!!!" Margie Stackman

BRIAN FARNSWORTH — "We can't be as Ignorant as the instructors think we are."

CYNTHIA S. FARRAH — No matter where we are, we'll always be together in memories and laughter . . .

MARK CHARLES FORSMAN — My only regret in four years is having to leave.

BRADFORD L. FITZSIMMENS — Good bye Camp Wesleyan. Concert Chorale — I love you all — more than any group I've ever been in. "Shine down on me," Love me tender.

BRAD FRANKLIN — Do something . . . Lead, follow, or get out of my way!

RONALD GRAYBEAL — "All my life's a circle, but I can't tell you why, seasons spinning around again, years keep rolling by." Harry Chapin

MARY LOU GREENWOOD — "When the time of our particular sunset comes, our thing, our accomplishment, won't really matter a great deal, but the clarity and care with which we have loved others will speak of the great gift of life we have been to each other." George Orbett

JULIA ROBERTA HALL — "Little faith gets little results; big faith, big results."

NANCY BETH HALL — To strive to be fully human is life itself.

PETE HAWES — "If I had wings and I could fly, I know where I would go, but right now I just set here contentedly and watch the river flow." Bob Dylan

SANDY HENDERSON — "You must do the things you think you cannot do." Eleanor Roosevelt

DAVID HENZLER — "Strength is a product of struggles."

DEE HUGHES — "If you have built castles in the air, your work need not be lost; that is where they should be. Now put foundations under them." Henry David Thoreau

RAVI J. ISAIAH — Things will come to those who wait, but, only the things left behind by those who Hustle.

AMY ELIZABETH JEROLOMAN — "Still round the corner there may wait, A new road or a secret gate, and though we pass them by today, tomorrow we may come this way, and take the hidden paths that run towards the Moon or to the Sun." The Lord of the Rings, J.R.R. Tolkien

CHARLES W. JOHNSON — Good-byes are too final — let's just say "so long" until we meet again.

SALLIE BETH JONES — To live your life in your own way ... to reach for the goals that you have set for yourself ... to be the you that you want to be ... That is SUCCESS!

DEBORA SUE KELLER — "May the road rise up to meet you. May the sunshine warm upon your face. And until we meet again, May God hold you in the hollow of His hand."

JOE KENASTON — May a day never go by that we do not learn something about ourselves, the world, and God.

SEAN KENNEDY — "... But me I'm not stoppin' there, got my own row left to hoe, just another line in the field of time. When the Thrasher's come I'll be stuck in the sun like the dinosaurs and shrines, but I'll know the time has come to give what's mine." Neil Young

JOY KRAUSE — What may appear to be an end is only a new beginning.

CRAIG LANKTON — Faster horses, younger women, older whiskey, more money.

SUSAN CARTER LANGDON — Remember me, as I do you, with all the tenderness, which it is possible for one to feel for another, which no time can obliterate, no distance alter, but which is always the same.

L. KAREN LANNIN — It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there; never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, speaking a true word or making a friend. John Ruskin

JENNIFER ELLEN LEE — Love is like a flower, it's soft, sweet, delicate, and so full of life. But to get it to blossom it needs plenty of warmth, time to grow, and a sprinkling of tender loving care!

SHANNON MARIE LIGHT — "Happiness comes of the capacity to feel deeply, to enjoy simply, to think freely, to risk life, to be needed." Storm Jameson

JANET LEE MAKOVITCH — Happy are those who dream dreams and are ready to pay the price to make them come true!

DORTHY E. MARKS — Don't you know the darkest hour is always before the dawn?

PAMELA J. MARTIN — To live a full life is not to live by what you want, but by listening to Him, the creator of our lives.

SUZETTE LOUISE MATT — I think about those people who made these four years really terrific and I become sad because these great years will never be again. Thank you my friends.

TERESA ANN MAY — "People are always longing for someone to help them realize their best selves, to understand their hidden self, to believe in them and demand their best. When we can do this for people, we ought not to withhold it. We ought not to be just an ear to them."

NANCY MCEWAN — The times that we were happy were the times we never tried. Jackson Browne

KATHIE LYNNE MCGEE — Life's too short to spend it by worrying — nothing is so bad that it couldn't get worse!

CYNTHIA MURTIF — Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I may not reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow them. Louisa May Alcott

JANE NICKELL —

O! the one Life within us and abroad,
Which meet all motion and becomes its soul,
A light in sound, a sound-like power in light,
Rhythm in all thought, and joyance everywhere —
Methinks, it should have been impossible
Not to love all things in a world so filled;
Where the breeze warbles, and the mute still air
Is Music slumbering on her instrument.
Samuel Taylor Coleridge

PAMELA ODEN — Without you Dad — This dream couldn't have come true. Thank you.

MATTHEW L. OFFRED —

There's a song in the Breeze
Hear it singing through the Trees
As it blows along you will know the Tune.

TAMMY PERKINS — When man begins to understand,
He will learn to love, And when His love is understood,
there will be everlasting Peace.

JUDITH E. PICKETT — Be patient with yourself — grow in your own way, in your own time.

KAREN ANN PLATEK — "Happy times and bygone days are never lost . . . In truth, they grow more wonderful within the heart that keeps them."

SUSAN COLLEEN MCGHEE — "Rejoice in the Lord always; again I will say, Rejoice." Philippians 4:4

DEBRA LEIGH MCLAMB — Happy are those who dream dreams and are ready to pay the price to make them come true.

BARBARA MILLER — "Though we travel the world over to find the beautiful, we must carry it with us or we will find it not. Emerson

SUZANNE MILLER — Contentment is not the fulfillment of what you want, but the realization of how much you already have.

LINDA MILLS — This is but a moment in the flow of eternity.

GARY MONTGOMERY — Juncti Juvant

SUSAN MORGAN — Simple things mean a lot to me . . .
Simple things of the earth don't die, they just grow and change as time goes by; there are no questions without answers. I've found my answer to life is living, the secret of living is life. Carole King and Rick Evers

NANCY MORTIMER — "Farewell to you and the youth I have spent with you. It was but yesterday we met in a dream . . . But now our sleep has fled and our dream is over, and it is no longer dawn. The noon tide is upon us and our half waking has turned to fuller day, and we must part. If is the twilight of memory we should meet once more, we shall speak again together and you shall sing to me a deeper song, And if our hands should meet in another dream we shall build another tower in the sky."
Kahlil Gilran

DONALD L. POOLE — Now it's our turn, our turn to serve God and one another and only in this will we find happiness. This time it's our turn.

GEORGE PORTER — "A man is always in the process of becoming." Roy Watson Curry

RICHARD PURCELL —
A brief candle both ends burning an endless mile a bus wheel turning
A friend to share the lonesome times a handshake and a sip of wine.
Say it loud and let it ring that we're all part of everything the present, future and the past fly on proud, you're free at last Charlie Daniels 1978

DONNA ELIZABETH RANSON — Hold fast to dreams
for if dreams die,
Life is a broken winged bird that cannot fly.
Langston Hughes

LAWRENCE E. ROGINA — Good Luck Wesleyan, Bill Johnston is all yours now!

BARBARA KAY SANTYMIRE — It has almost been a Rip Van Winkle situation, returning to Wesleyan after so many years but I really appreciate this opportunity. I would like to suggest to my classmates that they should take time to smell the flowers for they will wither and be gone — but remember from where they come. It's a great place to be so — go for it!

CAROL DEAN SAUNIER — "You find you are made up of bits and pieces of all who ever touched your life; you are more because of it, and you would be less if they had not touched you." Unknown

PATTY SAXMAN — "Try to be at peace with everyone, and try to live a holy life, because no one will see the Lord without it. (Hebrews 12:14)" To my friends; I thank you for showing me the Lord in your love.

TAM SHEIRER — "May the road rise to meet you; May the wind be always at your back; May the sun shine warm upon your face; And may God hold you in the palm of His hand." An Irish Blessing

DIANE SHIPLEY —

"Joy at the start
Fear in the Journey
Joy in the coming home.
A part of the heart
gets lost in the learning somewhere along the road."
Dan Fogelberg

CHNTHIA A. SHREVE — We the unwilling, led by the unknowing. Are doing the impossible, for the ungrateful. And have done so much with so little, we are now qualified to do anything with nothing.

ARLENE SMITH — Do not follow where the path may lead. Go, instead, where there is no path and leave a trail.

DONNA SMITH — "So one by one we're given moments to live, just as they're taken away. So I'm taking each day in stride and one by one the memories stay. Good times are still there to find when times are at their worst. Keep your eyes open wide 'cause through it all are moments that shine and moments that glow — I'm gonna be there for mine."

DEBORAH ANN SPAKAUSKAS — Don't walk in front of me — I may not follow. Don't walk behind me — I may not lead. Walk beside me — and just be my friend. Camus

SARA SPEEGLE — "Go to church!!!" by Margie Stackman

FREDERICK D. SPICER — It is my hope that, in this our 90th year, we would reevaluate our goals and values in accordance with our Christian tradition and heritage.

MARJORIE STACKMAN — "If you look to the horizon then you will see what God's placed in my heart, a promise, a hope, it's a rainbow and that will never depart. That rainbow is Jesus, He's the color of my life, He's the hope from heaven. Heals all my strife. When showers fall around me His light brings me on through that rainbow is Jesus and His color is for you." Margie Stackman

LINDA E. STARR —
To live your life in your own way . . .
To reach for the goals you have set for yourself . . .
To be the you that you want to be . . . That is success.

GAIL H. STOCKS — Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence . . . be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors and aspirations in the noisy confusion of life keep pace with your soul. Desiderata

JANET THORNE — I find the great thing in this world is, not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving. Johann Wolfgang von Goethe

DEB VEREEN — Two roads diverged in a wood, and I — I took the one less traveled by, And that has made all the difference. Robert Frost

KAREN J. WALTER — I never knew what friendship was . . . But it's the greatest feeling I'll ever know . . .

CRYSTALYN K. WAGONER — Every day has its rainbow.

CAROL WATKINS — Driving down life's highways, Always try to show a little class.

ANITA L. WETHERILL — Don't be dismayed at good-byes. A Farewell is necessary before you can meet again. And meeting again, after moments or lifetimes, is certain for those who are friends. Richard Bach

GAIL L. WINKELVOSS — "Tomorrow glows with the promise of joys yet to be." Roene Cox

KIMBERLY WISEMAN — "The glory of friendship is not the outstretched hand nor the kindly smile. It is the spiritual inspiration that comes to one when he discovers that someone believes in him and is willing to trust him."

A TRIBUTE

The XIV President

Dr. Fred E. Harris

"One who is trained vocationally should not assume he can think, and one who is trained liberally should not assume he is professionally trained. Students should learn to distinguish between what makes a living, and what is an education. The ideal, of course, might be to obtain both."

Dr. Harris in interview, August 30, 1980, with Linda Cornett, Staff Writer, Record Delta

The fourteenth president was an extensive world traveler, a man committed to the ideals of higher education, an educator committed to the total development of the whole person. The fourteenth president was a man whose name plate was inscribed in both English and Arabic. He was a man whose interests included anthropology, philosophy, music, and international affairs. He "heard about pizza," he felt "every television should have two off switches for every on switch," and he thought blue jeans were "fading." The fourteenth president was Dr. Fred E. Harris.

Fred Earl Harris was born in 1917 in Washington, D.C. Dr. Harris and his wife, Frances, came to Wesleyan in August of 1977. Before he joined the Wesleyan community Dr. Harris held a faculty position at the University of Kentucky, served as vice president for academic affairs at the University of Evansville, and was both Dean of the College and vice president for academic affairs of Baldwin Wallace College. Internationally, Dr. Harris participated and directed numerous programs. He started in 1954 as a project director for village developments in Cairo, Egypt and continued until 1970 when he served as a higher education consultant for the Republic of Vietnam.

Under the leadership of President Harris, Wesleyan moved to a position of stability, as a result of concentrating on the planning of the institution's future and the management of its present. Concerned with the mission of Wesleyan as an institution and not just a four year stop in the lives of individuals, the Decade of Celebration was initiated under the President Harris administration.

"Dr. Harris has often been described as a man with imaginative leadership in several areas of administration and supervision, public and teacher education, and international affairs."

It was to Wesleyan's benefit that Dr. Harris used his exceptional background to maintain our institution and enhance our future.

Editor's Farewell

Each year it is the editor's duty to end the current edition of the MURMURMONTIS with a passage that is either witty or profound. This editor has found that most profound statements tend to be obvious, cliché or plagiarized. While wit is not always obvious, statements of this nature also tend to be either cliché or ancient. It is this editor's individual hope to be neither. Although there is a desire to leave behind some "wisdom of the wise," forced wisdom is usually dry and dull wisdom.

In four years, or five, the mind can be crammed with many facts and the heart can be exposed to many orientations toward life. It will take most educated individuals an additional four years to sort through this empirical collection until they start finding their own meanings of life. It is a personal belief that such sorting and evaluating will continue for as long as one lives and that if such analyzing ends so will growth. If you idealistically look at those currently in your chosen career field and scorn them for not giving enough or not caring enough then don't fall into that rut yourself. Keep analyzing your thoughts and actions . . . keep an eye on yourself. Teaching and nursing and counseling affect too many people for you to give up when the system starts testing you.

These thoughts are not to be seen as profound or witty or clever. Just know that it is my expressed sincere hope that you do what you want to do in this world — to the degree that you want. I have personally known many of you and have to admit I would not mind living in a world run by such talented and compassionate people. I hope the "real world" doesn't minimize those two characteristics in us.

See you at Homecoming . . .

Dee Hughes
